Time It Was
And What A Time It Was

THE WAY

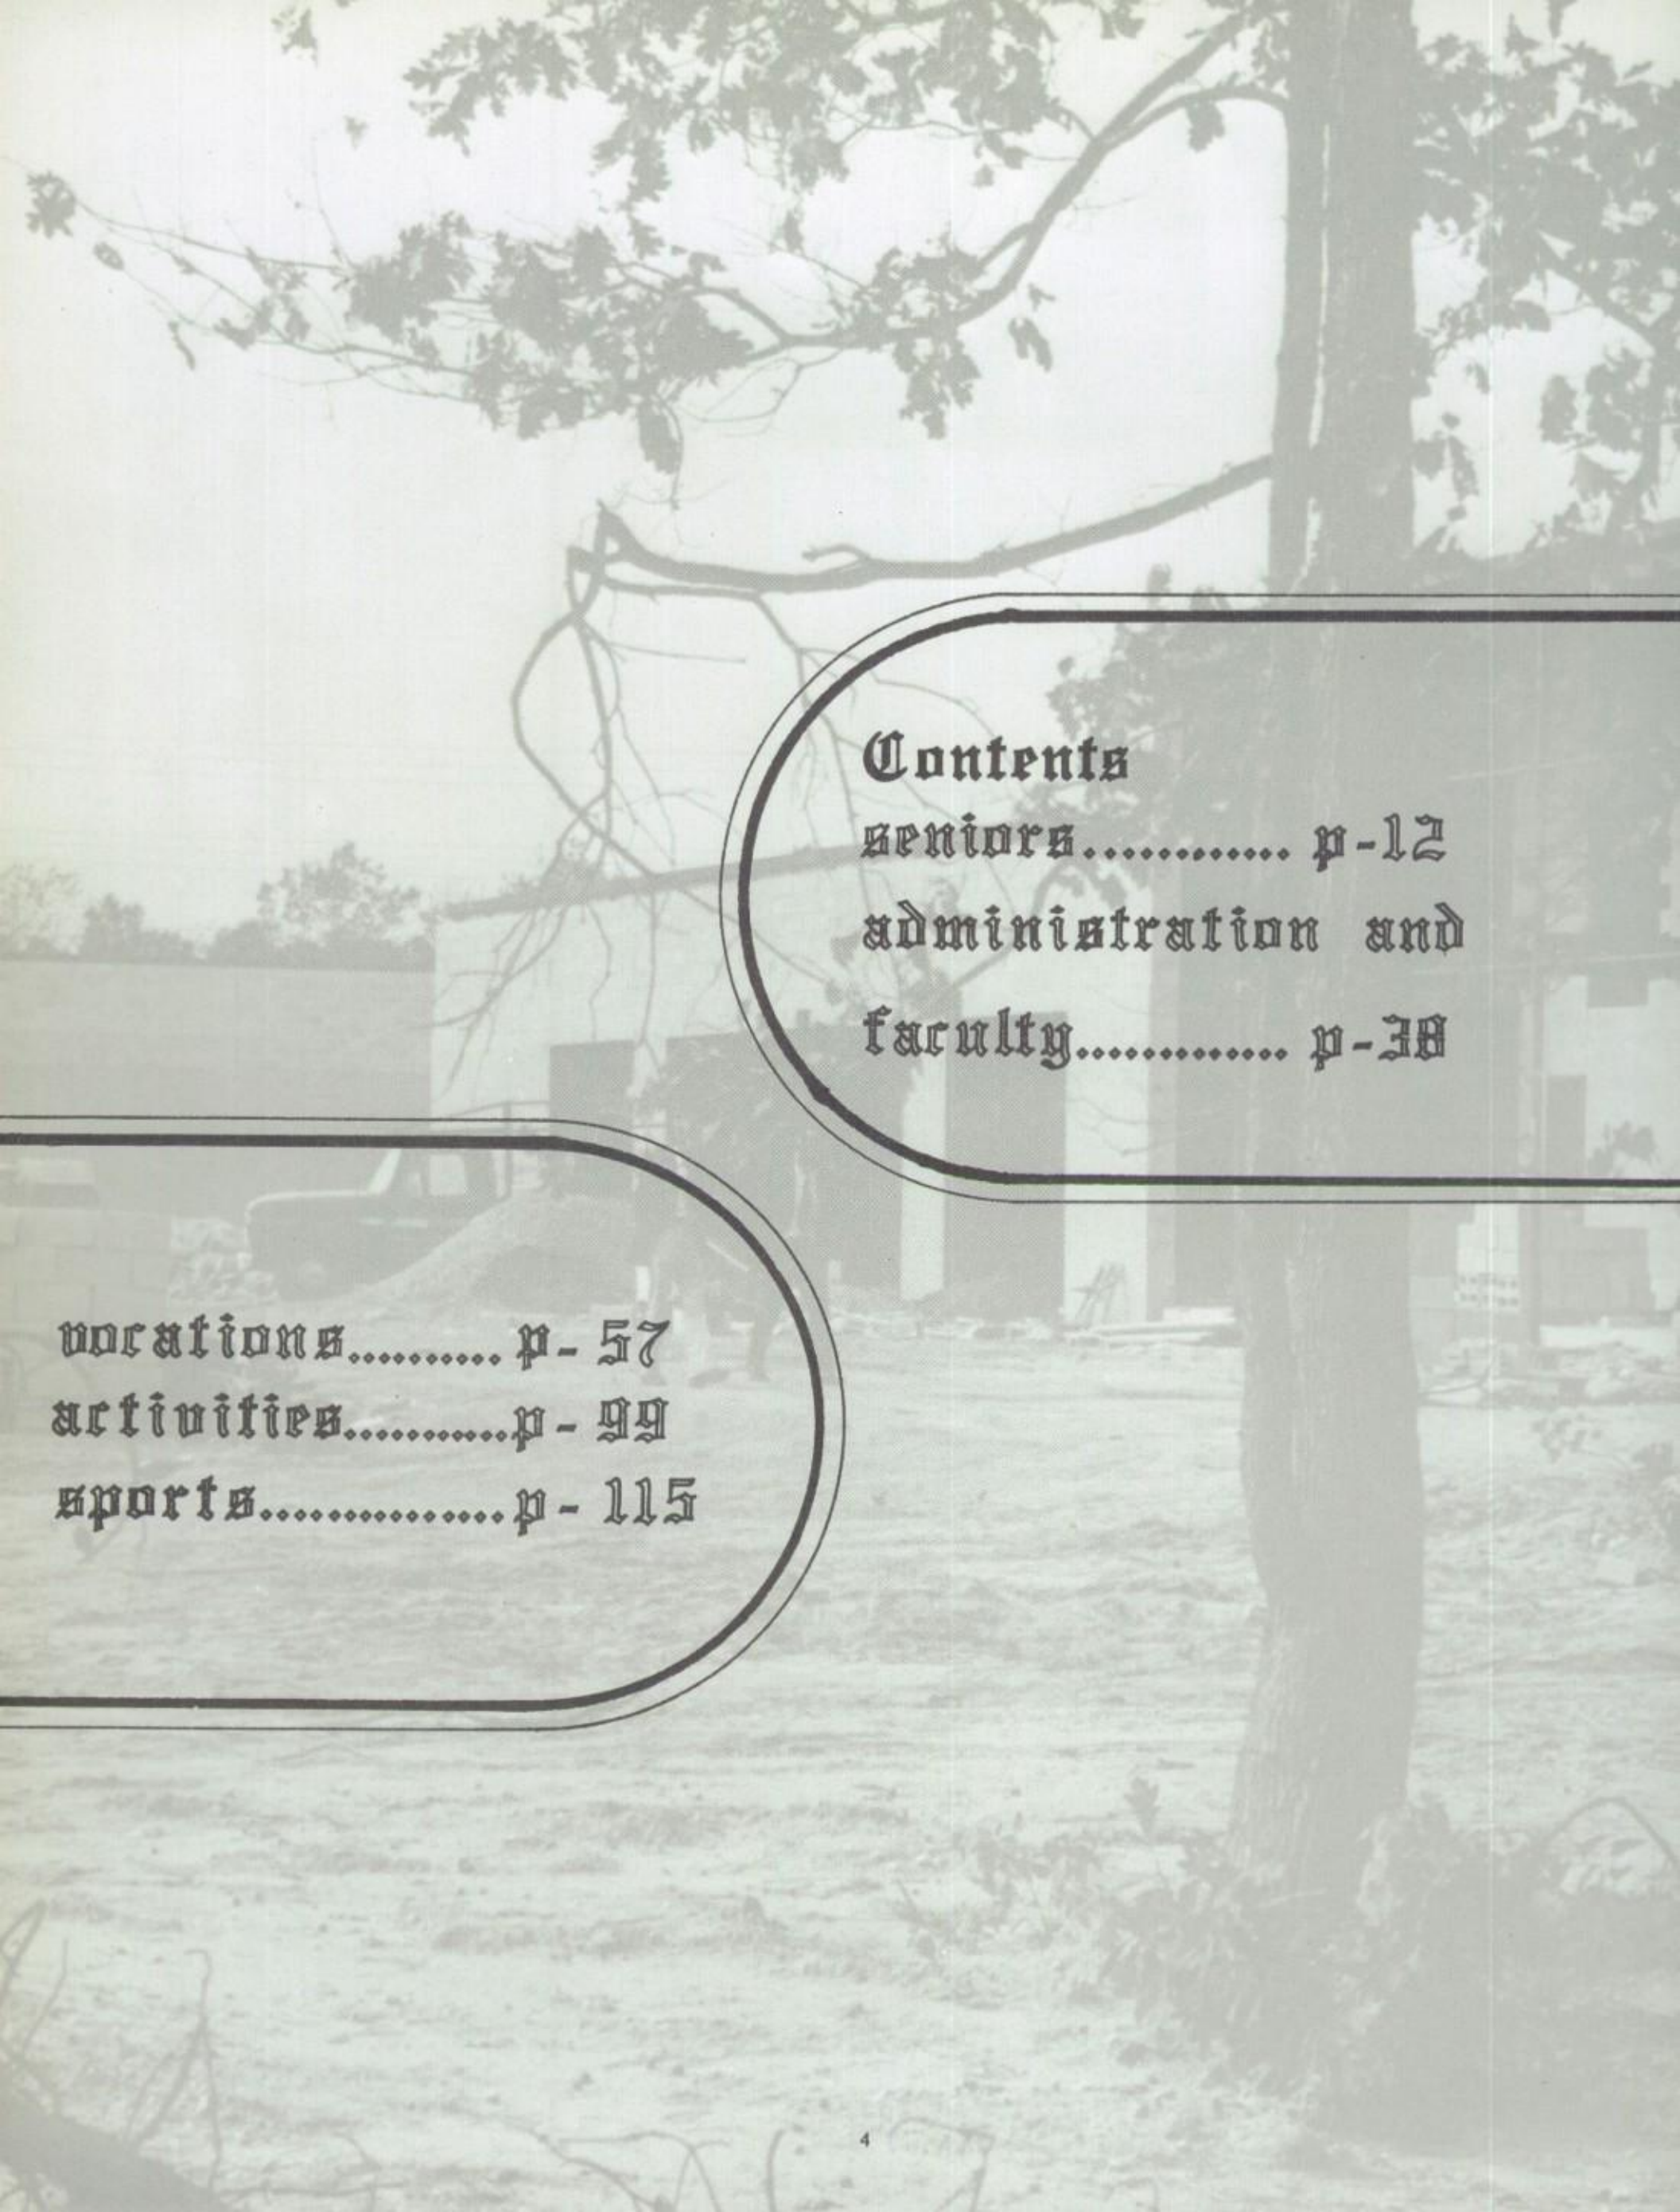

WE WERE

It Was . . .
A Time Of Innocence
A Time Of Confidence

The background of the page is a faded, sepia-toned photograph. It shows a large, leafy tree on the right side, with its branches extending across the top. In the background, there is a building with a porch and several columns. The overall tone is nostalgic and quiet.

Long Ago . . . It Must Be . . .
I Have A Photograph

Preserve Your Memories.
They're All That's Left You
— Paul Simon

To You,

Our Parents,

We Proudly

Dedicate

This 1975

Golden Warrior

"Watching children grow is like threatening the ivy to climb the garden wall. You wait for it to happen; you hurry it along with love. But still you're disappointed at giving someone life enough to walk off on their own and not be carried in your arms."

You never turn your back--not once, and yet one day they've grown apart or taller. It's all the same.

Polly put the kettle on we'll all have tea. Giving love to children has made us older overnight."

FACULTY

1. DONALD SPRINGLE, Superintendent.

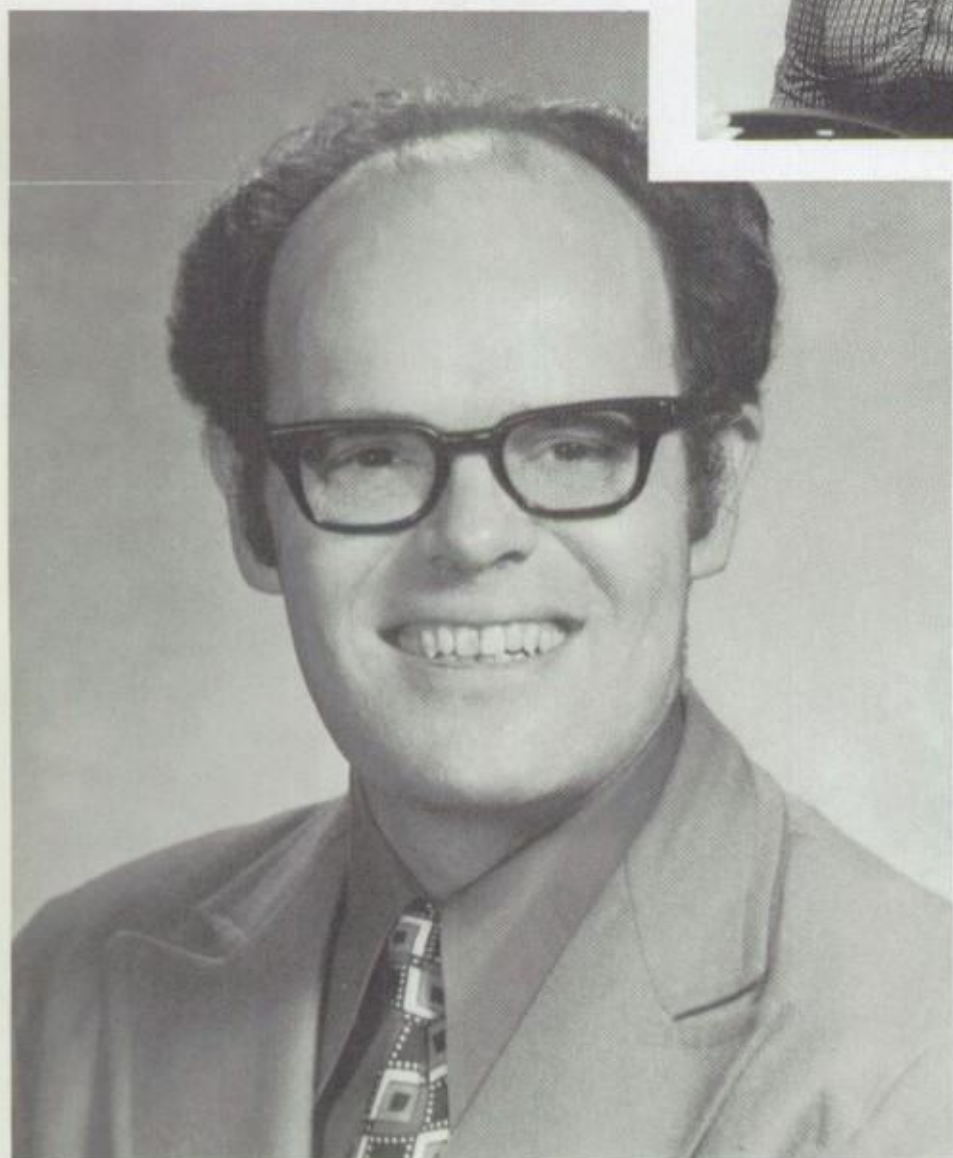

TO THE CLASS OF '75"

The theme of your year-book is "The Way We Were". The old days are supposed to represent the time when everything was better than it is today.

With all of the world's problems few, if any, would really like to go back to the old days. We remember the good things of the past and tend to forget the not so good.

2. RUTH CARDILLO, Secretary to Superintendent,

3. BEN VERDILE, Assistant to Superintendent.

Your parents have had a better life than your grandparents. Your life has been better than your parents at your age. I hope that your children, the next generation, will have a better life than you. This is what life is about. Not to return to the "good old days", but plan and work so that each generation can live a better life than the preceding generation.

The way we were was good, the way we are is better, but the way we will be is best.

I wish for each of you much success and happiness.

Sincerely,

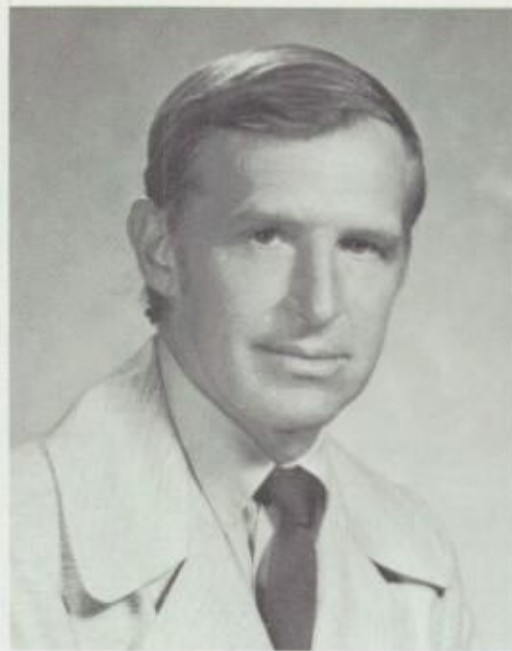

Donald Springle

Message from Principal

The class of 1975 will graduate into a world full of challenges and problems. I sincerely hope we have adequately prepared you to meet them and solve them.

Congratulations to each of you and may your future be one of success and happiness.

Message from Vice-Principal

In retrospect we tend to forget our bitter experiences and to remember those which brought us pleasure.

Nonetheless, those periods of hardship, properly endured, have strengthened us and enable us to take life as it comes.

Continue to persevere and to stand resolute whatever the obstacle...

Good luck to all of you.

Mr. Miller (ABOVE LEFT) remembers "the way we were" during our four years here. Mrs. Higgenbotham, Mrs. Gorney, and Mrs. Wirth (ABOVE RIGHT) remember signing us in when we were late; and they even remember occasionally settling some of our disputes. The real peacemaker, however, is Mr. Bacon (LOWER RIGHT), who together with Mrs. Sembrot and Mrs. Turnpu, will always be remembered by us. Immediately to the left is Mrs. Coppinger, whose cheerful communications tie all these together.

Message from Director of Special Needs

"When we stop and think and see the way we were, we marvel over the way we are today in '75. To think we began with three teachers and already have a staff totaling 17. Our Employment Orientation Shops numbered two; now we are four. When you think about it--time played an important element in education then and still does now even in the planning and construction of our new six million dollar complex which should be ready for occupancy in the 1975-76 school year."

Congratulations to our graduates, and best wishes to all of you!

POST E C O N D A R Y

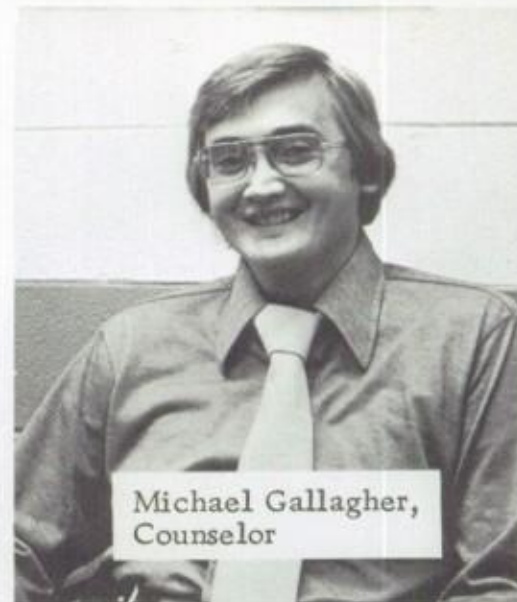

Message from Director of Post-Secondary

Changing lifestyles and changing work styles have caused us to look again at our system of values. However, each of us must accept the responsibility that he as an individual has to himself and to his fellow man.

In this technological age, we cannot be paralyzed into idleness by the vastness and complexity of our problems. Solutions to our problems may have their beginnings in the small and simple acts of each of us.

Poem "Auto Wreck" Karl Shapiro

Its quick soft silver bell beating, beating,
And down the dark one ruby flare
Pulsing out red light like an artery,
The ambulance at top speed floating down
Past beacons and illuminated clocks
Wings in a heavy curve, dips down,
And brakes speed, entering the crowd.
The door leap open, emptying light;
Stretchers are laid out, the mangled lifted
And stowed into the little hospital.
Then the bell, breaking the hush, tolls once,
And the ambulance with its terrible cargo
Rocking, slightly rocking, moves away,
As the doors, an afterthought, are closed.

We are deranged, walking among the cops
Who sweep glass and are large and composed.
One is still making notes under the light.
One with a bucket douches ponds of blood.
Into the street and gutter.
One hangs lanterns on the wrecks that cling.
Empty husks of locusts, to iron poles.

Our throats were tight as tourniquets,
Our feet were bound with splints, but now,
Like convalescents intimate and gauche,
We speak through sickly smiles and warn
With the stubborn saw of common sense,
The grim joke and the banal resolution.
The traffic moves around with care,
But we remain, touching a wound
That opens to our richest horror.

Already old, the question Who shall die?
Becomes unspoken Who is innocent?
For death in war is done by hands;
Suicide has cause and stillbirth, logic;
And cancer, simple as a flower, blooms.
But this invites the occult mind,
Cancels our physics with a sneer,
And spatters all we knew of denouement
Across the expedient and wicked stones.

Prayers of Steel

Lay me on an anvil, O God.
Beat me and Hammer me in-
to a crowbar.
Let me pry loose old walls.
Let me lift and loosen old foundations.

Lay me on an anvil, O God.
Beat me and hammer me into a steel spike.
Drive me into the girders that hold a skyscraper together.

Take red-hot rivets and fasten me into the central girders.
Let me be the great nail holding a skyscraper through blue nights into white stars.

"WE THE PEOPLE"

"The people know the salt of the sea and the strength of the winds lashing the corners of the earth.
The people take the earth
as a tomb of rest and a cradle of hope.
Who else speaks for the Family of Man?
They are in tune and step with constellations of universal law.
The people is a polychrome,
a spectrum and a prism
held in a moving monolith,
a console organ of changing themes,
a clavilux of color poems wherein the sea offers fog and the fog moves off in rain and the labrador sunset shortens to a nocturne of clear stars serene over the shot spray of northern lights.

The steel mill sky is alive.
The fire breaks white and zigzag shot on a gun-metal gloaming.
Man is a long time coming.
Man will yet win.
Brother may yet line up with brother:

This old anvil laughs at many broken hammers.
There are men who can't be bought.
The fireborn are at home in fire.
The stars make no noise.
You can't hinder the wind from blowing.
Time is a great teacher
Who can live without hope?..."
